

ECE 6562 Final Project - Robotarium SLAM Demo

Nathaniel Wert
nwert3@gatech.edu

Abstract: This report presents a collection of competitive agents in SoccerTwos, a physics-based 2v2 multi-agent soccer environment. SoccerTwos presents two challenges to training RL agents: sparse rewards and limited observations. We experimented with different training algorithms, different reward structures, and different policy models to train competent agents for the in-class competition.

- 1 Introduction
- 2 Related Work
- 3 Approach
- 4 Experiments
- 5 Discussion
- 6 References